

The Montclair Dispatch

Advertising Terms and Conditions

Yes, I wish to advertise in The Montclair Dispatch. I authorize and understand the following that The Montclair Dispatch will automatically charge my debit/credit card at the advertising rate and type I have selected. The first payment will be charged immediately upon processing my order and subsequent payments will be processed according to the type I have selected. Prices are subject to change and this agreement will remain in effect until cancelled. The promotional discount cannot be applied to a change in service. Rates are valid only for customers who have not advertised in the last 30 days and who live within the United States. My advertisement will continue to renew until I choose to cancel my service by calling customer service at 973-509-8861 and leaving a message requesting the cancellation. There will be no refunds for any unused portions of an advertising plan. This authorization will remain in effect until I notify The Montclair Dispatch. If my account has a previous balance this payment will be applied towards the amount due and the advertisement will not be started until the account balance is paid. By advertising in The Montclair Dispatch I also agree to all other terms and conditions so published.
